

Andrew Duff

Andrew Duff has chaired Severn Trent Plc since 2010 and is stepping down in 2020. He also chairs Elementis Plc, a FTSE 250 International Speciality Chemical business and in 2019 was appointed a non executive director at UK Government Investments Ltd.(UKGI). Prior to joining Severn Trent he was Chief Executive of Npower, having been a part of the executive team that demerged the company out of the former National Power before recommending its sale to RWE.

An engineer by training, he spent the early part of his career in the downstream businesses of BP with assignments in the Far East and the USA. Andrew is a member of the CBI Presidents' Committee, and a trustee of Macmillan Cancer Support. He is a fellow of the Energy Institute.