

Harlan Zimmerman

Harlan is a Senior Partner of Cevian Capital and has been with Cevian since 2003 (initially as a member of its investment committee and board of directors; from 2007 as a full-time partner and head of Cevian's London office).

Prior to joining Cevian, Harlan was a partner at Capital Z Investment Partners, where he worked with private equity and hedge funds sponsored by Capital Z. Previously, he was a manager of private equity and listed equities at F & C Management (then Foreign & Colonial), and a project financier at Morgan Grenfell.

Harlan is also co-Chair of The Winchester Project. He attended the Lauder Institute, University of Pennsylvania, where he earned an MBA from Wharton and an MA in International Relations. He graduated with a BA from the University of California, Davis in International Relations and Russian. He is a dual US/UK citizen.